“When I was training as a young doctor going to my hospital duties, at 5 or 6 am, and I saw a long line of people waiting outside the hospital, hoping for a chance to be seen by a health professional.”
“I saw this particularly striking elderly man in line. Later that day I still saw him again ang learned that he hadn’t seen by any doctor or even undergone any lab tests the entire day” he said.

Dr. Dexter Galban
CEO of Alaga Health

“Foreign countries are looking at the Philippines as a very good source of skilled and experienced nurses, nurses with a heart and proficiency to serve” said Eleanor Nolasco

But it comes at a price for Filipinos, Nolasco told CoverStory.ph in a phone interview. “Who suffers the most from their departure? Of course, it’s the patient” she said.

Eleanor Nolasco
Vice President of Filipino Nurses United (FNU)
